Dear Parent/Carer,

2nd February 2018

The safety of our pupils is at the heart of everything we do in school and safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is everyone's responsibility.

Keeping children safe online is considered one of our highest priorities and, through discussions with pupils, it is clear some children have unsupervised access to the internet for long periods of time throughout their week.

As a school, we recognise what a powerful tool the internet is and how it helps us in our everyday lives. We also understand the need to promote responsible use of the internet and recognise that if used irresponsibly, it can lead to serious issues for our pupils that can be both hurtful and harmful.

NSPCC

Next week, as part of Internet Safety Day, we will be delivering a series of lessons designed to help safeguard our pupils when they are online.

The theme of the lessons will be: Create, Connect and Share Respect-A better internet starts with you and we will cover topics such as:

- Stranger danger
- The digital footprint
- Access to online material
- The use of social media
- Online commercialism

We are hoping to arrange a meeting with parents in the near future to showcase and discuss some of the ways to protect your child when they are online at home. In the meantime, if you would like any further guidance about this very important subject, please read the attached leaflet, take a look at the links below or talk to your child's teacher.

Yours sincerely,

Robert Hull
